Garrett High School

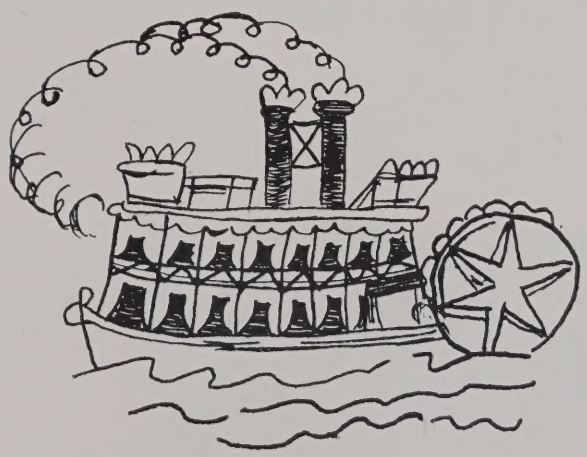
Class of 1950

Presents

the

Show Boat

Edition of the Aeolion



Editor: Barbara Bechtol

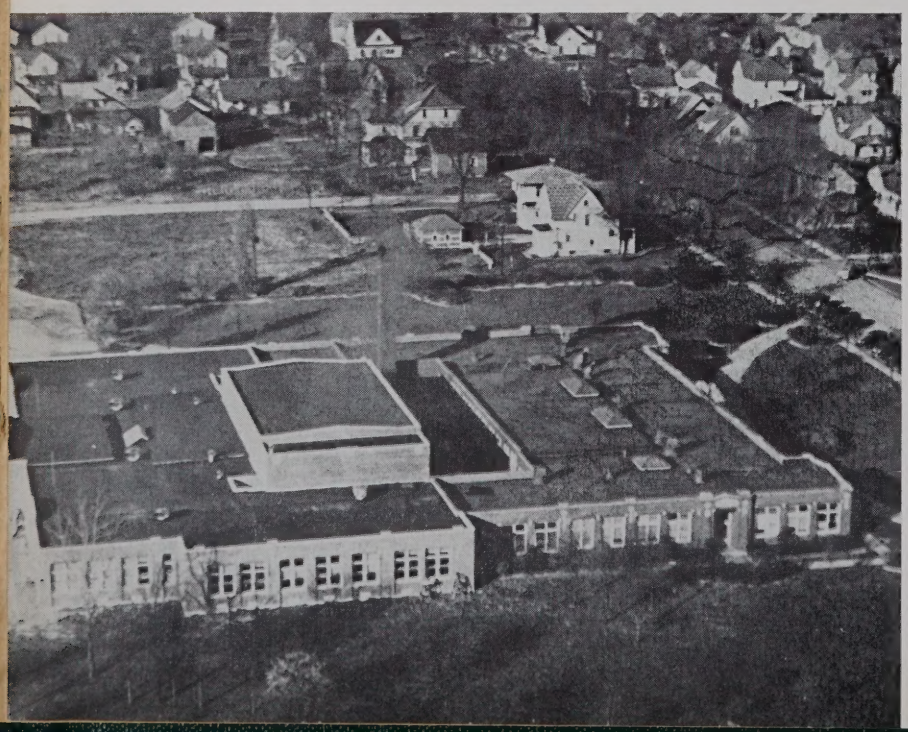
Business Manager: Sue Ann Rowe

Foreword

"All the world's a stage, and all the men and women merely players." In our Showboat Edition of the Aeolian, we've tried to show how Shakespeare's statement applies to Garrett High School.

Our school, itself, is the stage; our students, the cast. The administrators are the producers; the faculty, the directors.

We've attempted, in this book, to tell you of the roles of each player, from the lofty stars to the lowly scene-stealers. We've also taken you behind the scenes, and given you a glimpse of the bustling activity there. We hope that we have given you a true picture of the glamorous life behind the footlights.



Dedication

We, the class of 1950, respectfully dedicate this book to our mothers and fathers, who have given us an education which will make it possible for us to support ourselves, and will enable us to attain our ambitions.

Class Song

Time to go, Garrett High, Garrett High, Garrett High.
School days o'er; goodbye, Garrett High, goodbye.
We've finished our four years, and now we're leaving.
You've got to put your chin up, for we'll have no grieving.
Time to go, Garrett High, Garrett High, goodbye.

On stage! Lights! Curtain! Now on with the play. We have starred in a three-act drama. During the first act we grew in knowledge of the fundamentals, and we ourselves grew.

When we came to the second act, we were quite important boys and girls, for we were roaming the halls of Garrett High School with all the big stars. Climbing in importance, we organized our class; however, we were not really included in the scenes on the stage.

Entering the third act we suddenly found ourselves starting to make money. A play reminiscent of the Gay Nineties was staged to honor the stars.

At last we were the stars. We chose our costume colors, green and white; staged a benefit performance for our moms and dads; and produced a play. The final performance was held at the gymnasium on May twenty-fifth—GRADUATION DAY!

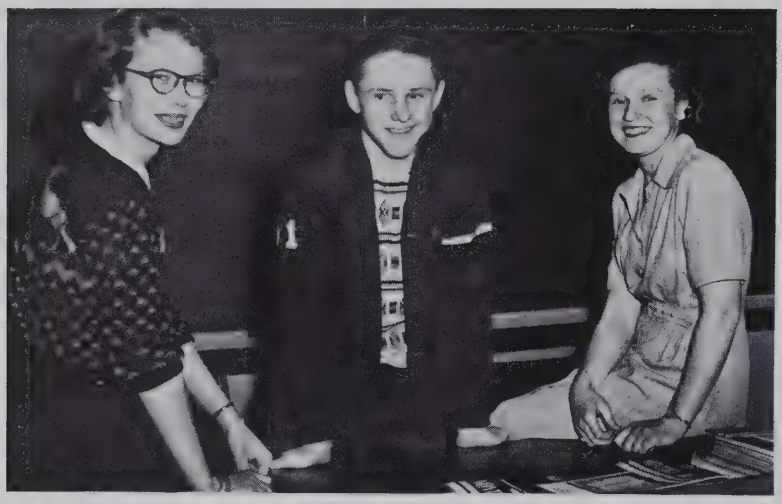
Second Lead



JUNIOR OFFICERS

Sharon Schmidt, Secretary-Treasurer; George Mayfield, President; Retha Bloom, Vice-President.

Junior Class

The members of this year's junior class have proved that they are qualified to take over the starring roles.

They turned in consistently fine performances at every appearance that they made. We saw them managing concession stands in the school and at football and basketball games. We saw them sponsoring after-game dances, at which various members of the cast were given opportunities to perform. And, finally, we saw them staging a farewell banquet for the stars.

Throughout the whole production no player missed a cue, for which cast and directors deserve a round of applause.

Sophomore Class

The Sophomores, known as the Understudies, have stolen the scene several times during this school year.

First they had a party for their class, which everyone enjoyed. Their big project was the ordering of their costumes—two years early! They certainly attracted the attention of everyone with their beautiful sweaters. For the benefit of the whole cast, they staged a skating party late in the season.

Their directors have a right to be proud of their fine performances.

Freshmen Class

The Stand-ins have started to prepare themselves to take the place of the old-timers. They have begun to participate in the parties and dances given by the older members of the cast.

It took a while for them to become acquainted with their studies and activities, but with the help of their directors they will be well trained for the lead.

Junior High - Bit Players

Bit Players must assume many responsibilities before they can step to the front of the stage. They must learn room arrangements and locker combinations, and must become acquainted with new personalities.

This year's group attacked their new duties with enthusiasm and real ability, showing the whole cast their readiness to assume more important roles.

They were wonderfully well represented in such school activities as the magazine sales campaign and the local talent assembly.

An interesting group found on our stage is the group of fifty little kindergarten students.

The most important function of kindergarten is to give the children an education in social adjustment. They learn to practice courtesy and kindness to others, and self-reliance by attending to small personal habits. They are also encouraged to do their own thinking and planning.

The children sing and recite memory work every day. The highlights of the year were Halloween, Christmas, Easter, and the simple graduation exercises on the last day.

The children who attend kindergarten are usually found in the highest group when they enter the first grade of school.

Behind the Scenes

Mr. Flora: Aren't you ashamed to be called into this office so often?
Maynard: Why no, sir. I always thought it was sort of a respectable place.

Mrs. Sweeney: What, in your estimation, was the greatest achievement of the Romans?
Valerie: I'd say it was learning Latin.

Mr. Dorrell: This gas contains deadly poison. What steps would you take if it escapes?
Don Gentry: Long ones.

Farmer Housel: I never did see hay grow as short as mine last summer.
Farmer Noel: You think yours was short! I had to lather mine to mow it.

Mr. Cole: I see you advertised your cornet for sale this morning, Don.
Don Boren: Yes, I saw the next door neighbor in the hardware store buying a gun.

Mr. Harman: And who invented the radio?
Jack Feagler: Paul Revere. He broadcasted from one plug.

Bob Dawson: I know that I'm just a pebble in your life.
Marilyn: You might try being a little boulder.

Phyllis: You say you love me; but would you be willing to die for me?
Jack Clark: Well, er, no. Y'see mine is what you call an undying love.

Miss Gump: Frank, why have you spelled "new" n-n-e-w?
F. Mossberger: Oh, that! This typewriter stutters.

Mr. Rose: What is a circle?
Bro: A figure with two sides.
Mr. Rose: How can a circle have two sides?
Bro: Inside and outside.

Beverly Myers (After a rapid-fire dictation from Mr. Flora): Now, Mr. Flora, what did you say between "Dear Sir" and "Sincerely Yours"?

Mr. Loomis: Well, Son, how did you do on your history exam?
Bill Loomis: Not very well, Pop, but gee, everything happened before I was born.

Soph: How about a battle of wits?
Senior: Sorry, but I never attack an unarmed man.

Kenny Treesh: My grades are all under water.
Bob Foulk: What do you mean, under water?
Kenny: Below "C" level.

Doug S.: You mean your teacher said your singing was heavenly?
Doug Z.: Well, practically that. He said it was unearthly.

Miss Evard: Tommy, what are the three words most often used by children in school?
Tom Leech: I don't know.
Miss Evard: That's right.

Anita Dills: Do you know why the street light turned red?
Wilma Walton: No, why?
Anita: You'd blush too if you had to change in the middle of the street.

Barbara King: What do you mean your sister takes rings from everybody in town?
Katrina: She has to—she's a telephone operator.

Coach Parks: What this team needs is life.
Manager Hauck: Oh, no! Thirty days would be enough.

Mrs. Faulstick: What would you do if a child swallowed a pin?
Gwynn Wade: Er ah, feed him a pin cushion.

Student Council

The evidence of our growth toward maturity can be found in our willingness to accept responsibility and in our power to carry out our projects successfully.

One of the projects sponsored by the Student Council was the recording of information about basketball opponents and the distribution of this information to the public.

Representatives from each home room met every Wednesday with Mr. Flora, to consider suggestions for student activity.

The student body, through the council, has an opportunity to study some of the problems of school government in an effort to improve the school.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

Phyillis Leech, Vice-President; Robert Dawson, President; Carol Miser, Secretary.

Y-Teens

Y-TEENS—MAKE MINE MANHATTAN

Y-Teens, a branch of the Y. W. C. A., was organized in the school for the purpose of promoting a sisterhood of junior and senior girls.

In order that the girls may be able to make adjustments after graduation, programs which include all phases of religious, recreational, and social activities are planned.

Traditional Y-Teen-sponsored activities are two sandwich sales to which the whole school is invited, and at least one big party. At Christmas time a box was prepared and sent to a needy Polish family; in the early fall the Garrett Y-Teens entertained six schools at the annual District Conference.

Y-TEEN OFFICERS

SEATED: Retha Bloom, Vice-President; Patricia Bartlett, President; Betty Andrews, Secretary.

STANDING: Ileen Hollis, Social Chaircan; Doris Dolan, Devotional Chairman; Wilma Walton, Song Leader; Beverly Myers, Treasurer.

Gentlemen Prefer Blondes

FRONT ROW (sitting): Douglas Zimmerman, Howard Nott, George Wappes, Richard Best, Evan Roberts.

SECOND ROW: Mr. Dorrell, Merlin Wappes, Jerry Campbell, Arthur Myers, Thomas Diederich, Thomas Jackson, Robert Grimes, Richard Bowlby, Arnold Dose.

THIRD ROW: William Loomis, Robert Baumgardner, Woodrow Trostel, Gene Brumbaugh, James Houser, Glenn Warfield, William Leech, William Stevens, Maynard Griffin.

FOURTH ROW: Frederick Housel, Bennett Noel, Robert Dawson, Douguas Shull, Franklin Mossberger.

HiY

The members of the Hi-Y were the male leads of our cast. The national Hi-Y is a branch of the Y. M. C. A. organized among high school boys for the purpose of promoting the highest standards of conduct and attitude throughout the whole school. Through weekly group discussions on vital questions, the boys helped each other to gain a clearer outlook on life, and to effect a tentative solution to some of their problems.

This year, under a new director, the boys undertook several worthwhile projects. They were also the guests of the Y-Teens at the "Caboose Capers", annual party.

HI-Y OFFICERS

FRONT ROW—Robert Dawson, President; Frederick Housel, Treasurer.

BACK ROW—Bennett Noel, Vice-President; Franklin Mossberger, Secretary.

The Girl from Utah

ROW SIX: Evelyn Diederich, June Stiles, Kathleen Hoyer, Jean Harner, Donna Myers, Gwyneth Manges, Carolyn Nodine, Carolyn Judd, Madeline Miller, Kaye LaFollette, Joan Rimmel, Joan Baldwin, Jeanne Todd, Rita Hopkins.

ROW SEVEN: Sally Bixler, Irma Diederich, Shirley Koepke, Gloria Mossberger, Carolyn Schurr, Barbara Moss, Joyce Getts.

Blue Triangle

The purpose of the Blue Trianble is to find and give the best. Organized as a little sister club to Y-Teens, it aids in developing leadership and co-operation, which will always be valuable assets.

This year, as in preceding years, the chief money-making scheme was selling Christmas cards.

Entertainment was provided by talented freshmen and sophomores. Occasional programs—a style show from the Raven-Croft school of beauty, and a book review by Mrs. Harry Hogan, for example—were sponsored by the Y-Teens.

BLUE TRIANGLE OFFICERS

SEATED: Shirley Fuller, Secretary; Irma Diederich, President; Carolyn Withrow, Vice-President; Artie Hopkins, Treasurer.

STANDING: Sharon Malcolm, Song Leader; Beverly Travis, Program Chairman; Kaye LaFollette, Social Chairman.

Barefoot Boy with Cheek

ROW ONE: Gene Brumbaugh, John Hovarter.

ROW THREE: John Clevenger, James Houser, George Helbert, Merlin Wappes, Jacques Hickman, Robert Chisholm, Frederick Housel, Eugene Shaffer, Bennett Noel, George Tuttle, George Wappes, Mr. Bateman, Harry Brumbaugh.

F. F. A.

The F. F. A. sets the stage to teach interested boys the fundamentals of farming.

This year they showed exhibits at the County Fair, sold apples, visited the Chicago International Livestock Show, sponsored a basketball squad, and sent delegates to the Future Farmers' Convention at Purdue.

Words that all Future Farmers remember are: "To live and learn on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging."

F. F. A. OFFICERS

SEATED: Bennett Noel, Vice-President; Fred Housel, President.

STANDING: Merlin Wappes, Secretary; Eugene Shaffer, Sentinel; Robert Chisholm, Reporter; George Tuttle, Treasurer.

STANDING (row two): Mrs. Sweeney, Lois Koch, Doris Dolan, Carolyn Simpson, Barbara Bechtol, Judith Schulthess, Carolyn Schurr, Donna Jeanne Rose.

Library Club

This year has seen the beginning of many good things at G. H. S., among them the organization of the Literary Engineers.

Under the expert guidance of Mrs. Sweeney, the members of the club worked hard to fulfill their four purposes: to interest students in becoming librarians, to bring better service to the school from the library, to train student librarians to be more efficient, and to make more people interested in good books.

The club if affiliated with the Hoosier Student Library Association, a statewide organization.

LIBRARY CLUB OFFICERS

Carolyn Schurr, Treasurer; Donna Jeanne Rose, Vice-President; Doris Dolan, President; Barbara Bechtol, Secretary.

Girls' Chorus

Every good show has a fine chorus to add color to the story and to supplement the talents of its cast.

The Girls' Chorus at Garrett High, after steadily increasing its membership for several years, this year contained more than eighty voices.

The fact that the chorus, with only half an hour's practice each week, was able to turn in such fine performances at it's two annual appearances, the Spring Concert and the Baccalaureate services, speaks well for Mr. Coble's superior ability as a director.

Of Thee I Sing

ROW TWO: Donald Boren, Robert Foulk, Harold Diehl, Donald Steward, Douglas Shull, William Byanski, Harland Quince, Richard Bowlby.

ROW THREE: Mr. Cole, Richard Dame, Eugene Shaffer, Ned Zimmerman, Kenneth Hollis, Jack Clark, Douglas Zimmerman.

Boy' Chorus

Those noises coming from Studio Three are only the warm-ups of the Boys' Chorus. After they get started, there's no stopping them.

Although the boys did not give a public performance this year, they worked hard and had fun singing together.

Under the direction of Mr. Cole the boys learned a variety of songs ranging from "My Bonnie" to "The Lost Chord" and "Stout-Hearted Men."

Singing together teaches the boys harmonization, rhythm, and melody. Turning numerous discords into harmony gave the boys a greater appreciation of music.

ROW TWO: Donald Getts, Eleanor Bowes, Dorothy Carper, Mary Hilkey, Patricia Smith, Susan Warfield, Carolyn Judd, Virginia Souder, Colleen Williams, Carolyn Withrow, Carol Miser, James Bartlett.

ROW THREE: Mr. Cole, William Loomis, Barbara Busz, Kay Feagler, Gareth Reese, Patricia Diederich, DeVeta Miller, Donald Gentry, Connie Schumaker, Thais Ervin.

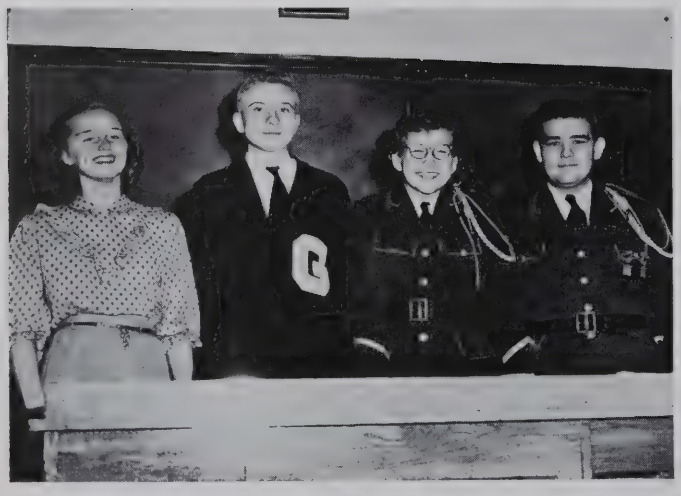
Band



We always were proud of our band when we saw it stepping in parade, shoulders back and eyes straight ahead. It was outstanding in that instrumentation was more complete and performance level higher than in past years.

Much to the delight of all local boys and girls, the band won a trophy for placing second in the DeKalb County Fair at Auburn. It also added color to the football and basketball games, presented a Christmas concert for the student assembly, and staged its last performance at Commencement.

The laurels did not come without work. Every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday found the band members hard at practice in Studio Three.

BAND OFFICERS

Joan Rimmel, Secretary; Donald Boren, President; DeVeta Miller, Vice-President; Robert Foulk, Student Director.

Brigadoon

KNEELING: Dennis Casey, George Mayfield, James Witherspoon, Robert Hammond, Glen Warfield.

Scout Club

"The show must go on." This might well be the motto of the Scout Club for they were busy leaders in community activities and represented a special group of boys in our school.

During Boy Scout Week the scouts took over the government of the city and of the school.

The members of the Scout Club bettered their school and community through their group projects and their good deeds.

Several Courts of Honor were held this year to reward the boys for their hard work and faithful efforts.

Streamliner Staff

Sweating and straining to meet its deadlines, the Maroon and Blue staff has successfully ended another year of editing the bi-monthly Streamliner.

Members of the staff solicited merchants to get advertising for the paper. Pounding typewriters, proof-reading, and planning a "dummy" were a few behind-the-scenes activities connected with the publishing of the newspaper.

Through the combined efforts of the staff and the immeasurable patience of Miss Evard, the Streamliner was a huge success.

Tales of the South Pacific

ROW ONE: Marilyn Haffner, Patricia Bartlett, Wilma Walton, Patricia Smith, Beverly Myers, Phyllis Leech, Pamela Freygang, Sue Ann Rowe, Patricia Owens.

ROW TWO: Donald Gentry, Gretel Heinzerling, Janet Limpert, Barbara Bechtol, Audrey Kelly, Mary Lou Wilcox, Joyce Scofield, Maynard Clark.

ROW THREE: Bennett Noel, Robert Dawson, Howard Bonnett, Douglas Shull.

Aeolian Staff

"Say, I knew that fellow when I was in high school. He graduated in my class." These may be your thoughts when glancing through this book ten years from now.

In the snapshots you see that old banquet sweetheart; in the basketball squad picture, the heroes of your high school years. All these help to bring back the feeling of fellowship with classmates.

The Yearbook staff has worked hard to make this annual interesting; and the senior class is happy to present it to you to help you remember this year at Garrett High School.

Howard Bonnett, a two-year letterman, has held down the left tackle position for the Railroaders for the last two years. He was one of the bigger boys on the team.

Jack Clark is a four-year letterman, who won letters as a fullback and as a right end. For three years he has made the N. E. I. A. C. second team.

Maynard Clark has been a letterman, as a rugged lineman, for two years. His home position was guard, but when a tackle was needed, he was tackle.

Bob Dawson is a two-year letterman, quarterbacking in his junior year, and filling the right end post in his senior year. He also saw action as a back in his senior year.

Wayne Diederich is a two-year letterman who filled the left end post for the Railroaders. He is a small boy, but he did big things in football.

Donald Gentry didn't make a practice of bouncing husky linemen off his shoulder, but he surely retarded their forward motion. He is a two-year letterman, member of the N. E. I. A. C. second team, and captain of the Railroaders in 1949.

Arthur Myers earned a letter in football his senior year by doing great things in the line.

Bennett Noel felt at home while in either the guard or the tackle slot for the Railroaders. He is a two-year letterman.

Douglas Shull earned a letter in football in his senior year by working either as a back or as a lineman.

Football Team

Any success which the Garrett Railroaders might have achieved in the 1949 football campaign came not through victory, but defeat. Since the team failed to win a game during the season, it might be thought that the time spent was a total loss; and this would be true if the only assets of the game of football come in overwhelming the opponent.

The really worthwhile things of any game are the results of participating—physical strength, sense of co-operation, and stronger character. Baron De Coubertin has been quoted thus: "The essential thing is not conquering, but fighting well." If this is true, who is to say how much the Railroaders benefitted from the 1949 football campaign, or just how successful they really were?

Basketball

Garrett High School was well represented on the basketball court in the 1949-50 season. Although the Railroaders failed to produce many victories, they provided many exciting games. Playing their best brand of ball against stronger teams, the Railroaders lost many close decisions. Because the team seemed to follow the pattern of playing close games against strong and weak teams alike, their supply of victories fails to do them justice.

Girls' Intramural

The Girls' Intramural attempts to give girls the opportunity to enjoy organized basketball. Participation in athletics not only develops a girl physically, but also creates in her the traits of a good personality: broadmindedness and sportsmanship.

Membership for one year is rewarded with a chevron and for four years with a pin. In recognition of excellence in performance, six girls are named to the All-Star Team at the end of the season.

GIRLS' INTRAMURAL OFFICERS

Judith Schulthess, Vice President; Mary Lou Wilcox, President; Carolyn Withrow, Treasurer.

Class Will

We, the stars of nineteen hundrey fifty, hereby make our collective and individual wills.

I, Beverly Barnhart, will my low locker to my sister, Nancy. May she have better luck than I did dodging upper lockerdoors.

I, Patricia Bartlett, will my ability to skip school and get away with it to Evelyn Diederich.

We, Barbara Bechtol and Gretel Heinzerling, will our ability to get into trouble to anyone who has the time.

I, Howard Bonnett, will my seat in Civics to Bill Leech.

I, Donald Boren, will my trumpet to Joe Krider.

I, Jerry Campbell, will my hay fever to Kenneth Hollis.

I, Robert Chisholm, will that noisy corner in speech class to George Wappes.

I, Jack Clark, will my ability to get along with women to Jack Feagler.

I, Judith Clark, will my seat in art class to Kathleen Hoyer.

We, Maynard Clark and Arthur Myers, will to Harland Quince and his chosen buddy our unforgettable parties.

I, John Clevenger, will to Harold Soudah my ability to get along with women.

We, Robert Dawson and Marilyn Haffner, will our ability to patch things up in a hurry to any couple who needs it.

I, Wayne Diederich, will my bashfulness to Bill Loomis.

We, Anita Dills and Wilma Walton, will party nights in K'ville to Barbara King.

We, Robert Foulk and Kenneth Treesh, will one Hudson, one Chevvy, and a party to Melvin Treesh and Jack Williams.

I, Pamela Freygang, will my ability to be quiet at the wrong time to Sandra Luttman.

To Barbara Curie, I, Glennagene Fuller, will my high locker.

I, Donald Gentry, will to George Mayfield my job of distributing Beech-Nut gum. I hope he is willing to be mobbed when he walks down the hall.

I, Raymond Hauck, will the job of basketball manager to Raymond Siders.

I, Nancy Hays, will my dreams of a 1950 Cadillac to Evy and Jean. (May their dreams come true.)

To any junior or senior, I, Robert Hillegas, will my ability to get business law.

I, Ileen Hollis, will some of my shortness to Artie Hopkins.

I, Fred Housel, will to Bill Maggert my locker on the top row.

I, Audrey Kelley, will to Maxine Walt the seat in Civics in which I froze to death.

I, Lois Kock, will my trouble with blondes to Beverly Wansitler.

To Jeanne Todd, I, Patricia Krider, will my old bones. I'm through with them now.

I, Phyllis Leech, will encouragement to carry on in Auburn to Jo Ann Baldwin.

I, Janet Limpert, will my ability to whistle to any boy who needs it.

I, Valerie Machlik, will to Thais Ervin the honor of not having visited the breakfast club.

I, Winifred McMillan, will my ability to be at school such a short time each day to everyone.

Class Will

I, DeVeta Miller, will my position in the band to Jo Ann Mitchell. May she have as much fun as I had.

I, Beverly Myers, will to Gwynn Wade my ability to get to school before the five-minute bell rings.

I, Bennett Noel, will my seat in speech class to Byron Ferguson.

I, Patricia Owens, will to Sharon Helbert the ability to get my shoe "hooked" in speech class.

To Dennis Casey, I, Sharon Rahrig, will two or three inches of my height.

I, Gareth Reese, will my position as first clarinetest to Kent Gordon.

I, Cleota Rodebaugh, will to Mary Romano, Dick Rimmel, and Keith Rugman my ability to study in room 11.

I, Sue Ann Rowe, will my ability to get into trouble through my outspokenness to Nancy Sithen.

To any newcomer in G. H. S., I, Joyce Scofield, will my low locker, with the hope that he will be short.

I, Katherine Shirk, will to any high school girl the pleasure of sitting beside Glen Camp in the bus. May that seat never be empty.

I, Douglas Shull, will my ability to get into room 11 just before the 8:30 bell to Bob Baumgardner.

I, Patricia Smith, will to Joan Rimmell my naturally curly hair and glasses with the hope that she gets as much attention from the dark rims as I did.

I, Donald Steward, will my ability to steer clear of women to Leslie Harper.

I, Patricia Steward, will my senior dignity (?) to the noisy freshmen at my locker.

I, Barbara Treesh, will my top locker to Marilyn Tuttle.

To Richard Dame, I, Merlin Wappes, will my cross-country and track equipment.

I, Dorothy Werkheiser, will to Barbara Bickel my place at the librarians' desk.

I, Mary Lou Wilcox, will my success in keeping a steady boy friend to Judy Schulthess.

I, Mary Wilson, will my ability to skate to Jeannette Andrews.

To the freshmen, we, the class of '50, will our textbooks and senior self-confidence.

To the sophomores, we, the class of '50, will our success in making money and in entertaining the senior class.

To the juniors, we, the class of '50, will our front seats in the auditorium and all our good times at G. H. S.
